Featured Authors

A'Leia Bundles is chairman of the board of the Foundation for the National Archives, a member of the advisory boards of the Indiana Historical Society's publication committee, and of the Schlesinger Library at the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study at Harvard University. She is the great-great-granddaughter of Madam C. J. Walker and lives in Washington, D. C.

Don Lago is an award-winning writer who has published more than fifty nature and astronomy essays in national magazines and literary journals. He is the author of ten books, including most recently Grand Canyon: A History of a Natural Wonder and National Park. He lives in Flagstaff, Arizona.

Leonard M. Adkins has hiked more than 19,000 miles. Almost every hiking season finds him on some new and exciting adventure. He has thru-hiked the full length of the Appalachian Trail five times and authored more than a dozen books on the outdoors, nature, and travel. He was honored with a Lowell Thomas Travel Journalism Award.

Chris Edwards, Ed. D., has been published in journals by both the National Council for History Education and the National Council for Social Studies. He is a frequent contributor to the science and philosophy journals Skeptic and Free Inquiry. He proudly teaches world history and Advanced Placement world history at a public high school in Indiana.
